"We Can't Live on Authority Alone."

In the Presbyterian church last Sabbath Dr. B. F. Marable preached a forcible sermon from Genesis 12th chapter, 1–4 verses. He showed that God had so constituted man that he could not live on authority alone, the man so living could be nothing less than a slave. That authority exercised without appealing to the reason and conscience of man dwarfed the manhood within us and made us poor, little, ignorant and selfish. God, therefore, in his command, to Abram, in the text, adds to the command a promise—a double ironclad promise, and to the promise grace. The learned divine illustrated the subject by citing many dismal failures in human governments where authority alone was used. He cited the governments of Russia, Turkey, and American slavery prior to the civil war. He said that the word of the Master was the law of the slave, therefore under slavery the manhood of the negro was crushed and there was no elevation of the race.

This seems to us an unfortunate illustration, for it suggests two inferences, viz.,

1st. That the American negro of 1861 was inferior to his brothers in their native barbarism in the dark continent.

2d. That the branch of the negro race in America had been elevated—morally and intellectually by being suddenly put in the abnormal position of American citizenship.

Both of these views are directly in opposition to the views held by the leading authorities on the negro problem.

It is generally conceded that slavery was not a curse to the negro, but rather a curse to his Master—to the negro it was a blessing or means of elevation. Senator Eustis, discussing the experiment of making the negro a citizen says "he has remained stationary, inert, dependent, and unprogressive and that it must be because of some fundamental law more potent than municipal legislation and more absolute than moral precepts."

Prof. Shaler, of Cambridge, says that the experiment of freeing the black on this continent has resulted in lowering instead of elevating the race.

After giving a number of illustrations from personal experience and the general experience of the country, he says: "Such are the facts of experience. They may be summed up in brief words—uniform, hopeless failure, a sinking back towards the moral conditions of the Congo and Guinea coast." The above extract clearly shows that Prof. Shaler considers that the negro was elevated under the conditions of slavery and he is losing that elevation under the experiment of citizenship—sinking back to the conditions of barbaric Africa. Prof. Shaler is is the author of the new and probably correct theory for explaining the unprogressiveness of the negro, namely that his animal nature so preponderates over his intellectual and moral natures, that at the age of puberty, when the animal nature developes, that the moral and intellectual qualities are clouded by the animal instincts and not only cease to develop but really retrograde. He propounds the following fundamental law, in which the color of the negro marks his inferiority:

"Whatever race or species is changeless from generation to generation as to the color of its skin, hair, and eyes, if it be man or animal, or eyes and plumage, if it be bird, evinces low brain-power, is 'inferior;' while that which is changeful from generation to generation as to the color of its skin, hair, and eyes, or plumage, shows high-brain powar, is 'superior.' Or, more briefly: The invariable as to racial color is the 'inferior;' the variable is the 'superior' race."

The Doctor preached an excellent sermon at night from the subject: "The Lord reigneth," which for want of space we are unable to report.

"SOUNDING THE KEYNOTE."

That bright and newsey daily, the Durham Globe, says:—

The CAUCASIAN recently in advocating the establishment in the town of Clinton of soap and starch factories gave vent to a sentiment that is becoming more and more reorganized wherever the experiment of manufactories is tried.

Our contemporary says that "Any merchant in Clinton could make more money by taking his capital out of the mercantile business and starting such factories. The manufacturer is the man who makes the profit."

That is the keynote that the business men in North Carolina towns will sooner or late have to re-echo. Gradually they are having the fact burned into them that there are too many men engaged in merchandising in North Carolina in proportion to the population of the state.

We are an army of consumers, without producing one thousandth part of the things we need, and have to buy at a distance, with freight to be added.

We must awake to the importance of making among us more of the articles that are necessary to our comfort and being. Our grocers, our dry goods merchants, our shoe and hat men, and our business men generally, will sooner or later see the practical wisdom of not risking all of their eggs in one basket. This realization will not be reached without cost. Many hard lessons are to be learned and bitter experiences are to be passed through with before the truth will shine forth with no uncertain light, as it has done in hundreds of other cities and towns of this country, where the hum of hundreds of plants make the sweetest music that progressive ears can hear, where the industrious toiler lives beneath his own roof tree, finding happiness and contentment in the thought that constant and lucrative employment is vouchsafed to him, whereby he is enabled to live respectably, educate his children, and lay something aside for a rainy day.

TO WHOM THE HIGHEST PRAISE.

The man who will invent a noisless rubber tire for the milk wagon will deserve to rank with Bell and Edison.—Chicago Herald.

And if he will then invent a device for waking the early passenger without arousing everybody else in the hotel, he will earn a monument as high as the Eiffel tower.—Petersburg Index Appeal.

But the highest and most enduring monument of all awaits the man who will teach unprogressive merchants the importance of advertising in their city paper.—Durham Globe.

THE MESSENGERS RECORD FOR FOUR WEEKS.

In four weeks ending with Friday morning, there have been 171 new names added to the books of the Messenger outside of town. This is very encouraging. The people like the Messenger, that is certain. It is very pleasant from week to week to report such good progress. We hope our friends will not weary in well doing. There were fifty ads in Sunday's paper under head of New Advertisements. With better mail facilities we could soon get a thousand new subscribers. When we get the thousand you will have a better paper.—Wil. Messenger.

WHEN A HEROINE AND WHEN A COWARD.

Woman has rarely had a more feeling tribute than the following from the San Francisco Report:

"Who turns deadly pale at the sight of blood, yet stands recklessly in its train in time of war or accident? Woman. Who eats scraps for lunch that noble(?) man may have tidbits for dinner? Woman. She is a heroine in danger, a coward when looking under the bed.—Wilmington Messenger.

DUPLIN NEWS.

Alliance Pic-Nic at Sandy Plains—Other News.

KENANSVILLE, N. C.,
Sept. 24th, 1889.

The cultivation of sugar cane in this section is rapidly increasing and our farmers say that it is one of the most profitable crops that they plant. Mr. A. D. Johnson, one of our most successful farmers, has just turned out 130 (one hundred and thirty) gallons of syrup out of one half acre of cane, and he disposes of it at 50cts per gal. making $65. for the product of ½ acre of land. What other crop will yield this?

The sort of weather we had last week is calculated to make a man look up his overcoat, heavy shoes and etc and besides he can imagine that he sees the wood or coal man, handing him a bill, to bal. when he has an empty purse.

Cotton is coming into market rather slowly and as the crop was so badly damaged by the continued rains, we do not expect very much, although our merchants expect a plenty of corn, peas, rice and other produce.

Miss Rena Cooper has returned Lome accompanied by her sister, Mrs. J. F. Woolvin, whom she has been visiting at her home in Wilmington.

Mrs. Joe. Smith of Wilmington has been visiting Mrs. J. E. Sprunt.

Our residents never enjoyed better health, although our physicians have a pretty good practice in the country.

Your correspondent has been on the sick list for the past week which will account for the deficiency of news.

Prof. McArthur has entered on his new duties as assistant principal of the Academy, with a vim, and his students express themselves as highly pleased with him.

Mr. Samuel Summerlin, a pensioner of the Mexican and a soldier of the late war, has lately died in Smiths' township. He leaves a wife to mourn her loss. Verily, a faithful one has departed.

The Alliance pic-nic at Sandy Plains on the 21st instant, was a grand success. There was a large crowd gathered from Onslow, Jones, Lenoir, and this county, an abundance to eat nothing intoxicating to drink. Prof. B. F. Grady, the orator of the day, spoke for an hour. He advised the people to improve themselves intellectually and morally and to improve their lands; then in his own masterly way, he exposed the iniquities of the protective tariff, the National banking system and other evils. Ought not Prof. Grady to be put in some position so that the people could get more benefit from his great accomplishments?

KING OF AMERICA.

In 1775 when the people of this country were beginning to think of separating from Great Britain, since they had always been used to having a King, much concern was expressed as to who should be their King. The author of The Crisis, a powerful paper devoted to American Independence, referred to that, saying—"You ask, who shall be your King. I will tell you who shall be King in America. I would have all the people to assemble in a vast field and I would erect there a great statue, a statue of the Law, and the people shall crown it; and the Law shall be your King, the Law shall be King in America."—News & Observer.

"LIVING PROBLEMS IN RELIGION AND POLITICS."

Rev. Thomas Dixion, Jr., a native of North Carolina, has a book of sermons in press, entitled "Living Problems in Religion and Politics." The Christian Enquirer says that "no doubt it will have a large sale." A man of parts, with oratorical gifts, he is making his marks abroad.—Wil. Messenger.

The Philadelphia Record makes this clear point:

"Many a fine fellow goes through college who knows a heap of this and that, but doesn't know how to put this and that together. Knowledge is power, just as steam is power—when it is put to use."—Wil. Messenger.

"CLINTON NOTES."

Under the above head a reporter for the Wilmington Messenger, who was here last week, has the following to say of our town and its people:

"We thought Clinton was a little staid, conservative town like many others in Eastern Carolina, but our visit has been quite a revelation. We find it not only a beautiful but thrifty and progressive town. While being shown over the town today your correspondent saw many handsome residences which would be a credit to much larger places, in one of which resides one of the youngest and best judges in the State, the Hon. E. T. Boykin.

"We saw quite a number of new residences, and understand that about forty have been erected and that the population has increased about four hundred in the past two years. Several new buildings are being erected, as well as additions to and improvements on many old ones. Clinton, it is likely, will also have many more enterprises in the near future, as we hear a canning factory and other prospective enterprises frequently spoken of.

"The Carolina Veneer Works is a big enterprise, and is one of the most creditable and praiseworthy in the whole South. Every cent of the $30,000 invested is home capital, and the chiefest beauty is that it produces wealth from hitherto almost entirely worthless materials. The main building is 50x50 feet; the saw room, 20x70 feet; the steam dry house, 28x62 feet; engine room 20x25 feet; two warehouses 20x49 and 30x75 respectively. There are two large veneer machines and forty butter dish machines, besides all the other necessary equipments. The capacity is: For orange sides, 10,000 per day; berry-baskets, 40,000; crates, 500; grape baskets 4,000; butter dishes, 40,000, which will be increased 100,000 by April 1st. Blackgum, sweetgum and poplar are the woods used. The butter dishes are the finest we ever saw, and and the factory has a standing order from a northern house for as many as it can possibly make. The enterprise is a fine one and has a bright future.

"While passing along the street we saw Dr. McKinnon, ex-president of Davidson College, sitting in an easy rocker in front of his handsome and comfortable residence. He is badly afflicted with rheumatism, and can get about only by the use of crutches, and it is the hope of his many friends throughout the State that he may soon recover.

"The Sampson people have gone to work in earnest to hold another one of their large and successful fairs, for which she was once noted. A large number of hands are now at work repairing the buildings and putting the grounds in shape. The Sampson fair is to be the last held in this State this year, but will by no means be the least. It will be held on the 4th, 5th and 6th of December.

"Mr. Marion Butler, editor of THE CAUCASIAN, who is a graduate of the State University, and only twenty-six years old, gives the people of Clinton and Sampson county a fine paper and is doing excellent work for them. Since he became editor and proprietor, a short time ago, he has bought a new press and much new material, changed from patent outside to all home print and doubled his subscription. He likes Clinton and Sampson county and they are proud of him.

"This is one of the Messengers strongholds. Its circulation is very large and increasing here. It has been read by the good people of this section of country for more than twenty years, and they would not know how to do without it.

"Many other things of interest might be mentioned concerning the good people of Clinton and Sampson county, which your correspondent has not spoken of, but time and space forbid. We hope to speak of them again at some future time."

We wish to thank our esteemed friends and cotemporary, The Messenger, for the kind words it has for our people and for ourself personally and assure its able editor and enterprising proprietor that his paper has no more appreciative readers anywhere.

CUMBERLAND NEWS.

The Canning Factory a Success—Other News.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.,
Sept. 23rd, 1889.

The canning factory has shut down, as the fruit season is over. It has been demonstrated to be a practical success. Tomorrow the stockholders meet to hear the reports of the officers and to organize under the charter just granted by the clerk of the court. The reports will show a handsome profit on the investment. This winter the company will enter into contracts with the farmers to take all the tomatoes they can produce on a given number of acres, at a stipulated price. There is more money in raising tomatoes at 25 cents per bushel than there is in raising cotton.

Col. W. S. Cook, chairman of the Board of magistrates for this county has issued a call for a joint meeting of the Justices and county commissioners for the first Monday in October, to take into consideration the building of a new Courthouse. The people are awakening on this subject and propose to have the records protected in throughly fire proof vaults. The burning of the Courthouse at Carthage has given them an idea of the great danger the records are in a little additional taxation may save maney years of vexations litigation over land titles.

The centennial will take place on the 20th, 21st and 22nd of November. It seems that many people are in doubt as to its date.

A detachment of the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry will meet ex-President Davis in Charlotte on his way to this city. Cannot the Sampson Light Infantry send an escort with them? The whole state ought to turn out to greet this great statesman and constitution defender.

The Clerk of the Superior Court issued last week letters of incorporation to the Carolina Roller Mills and Supply Company and the Fayetteville Canning Company. The first named company will operate the $20,000 roller mills built here a few years ago by A. G. Styron & Co. who assigned last spring. A branch track of the C. F. & Y. V. R'y will be run to the mills on Cross Creek.

Mr. J. A. Moore succeeds Mr. D. F. Wemyss as general storekeeper for the C. F. & Y. V. R'y. Mr. Wemyss will take charge of the post office on October 1st. He is possessed of the requisite qualifications to make an efficient officer, and is as clever as any republican to be found, in other words he is an accomodating and affable gentleman, and will, I believe, make a good officer.

The friends of Mr. Chas. A. Rankin of this city, are gratified at his election as orator on Washington's birthday at the University.

Miss. M. E. Collier, who has been in the Western Union Telegraph office here for three years has resigned her position and will return to her home in St Louis, much to the regret of her many friends. Her successor is Mr. Southworth from Virginia, who is assisted by Mr. Geo. Dye.

There is so much freight on the Yadkin Valley road, that the through freight is divided in sections. The local freight from here to Bennettsville usually comes with forty to fifty cars.

The Graded School on Haymount is attended by over three hundred pupils, not quite so large a number as last year. There is a great increase of private schools however.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thomson have returned from Blowing Rock. They spent the summer there and are much improved in health.

A knitting factory is talked of here now. It is hoped that it will be started. Small industries are the thing when we cannot get the big ones.

A missionery convention of the ladies of Fayetteville Presbytery was held here last Wednesday. The attendance was very good. Mrs. McNeill, of Red Springs was elected President of the association.

The cotton market is getting lively, as the staple is coming in quite freely. The price last week ranged from 10⅛ to 10¼.

The circus at Selma to day will attract a crowd from this city. People will go to them. They take more money out of the country than they bring, and the morals of the country are no better.

The Hotel La-Fayette was crowded with guests yesterday. The drummers come here in large numbers to spend Sunday, attracted by the town and its elegant hotel facilties.

The Fayetteville cotton mills start up this week, for the first time since the washout, an engine is being put in, so that the factory can run day and night as the water power will only run the machinery twelve out of the twenty four hours. The Cumberland mills take all the yarn that the factory can make.

Mr. Julian S. Carr of Durham was unanimously elected chief marshal for the celebration in November, by the centennial committee on Thursday.

The German clubs are having a gay time. Every week there is a dance either down town or on Haymount, swallow tail coats are in demand.

I am glad to see that the press of the State is against lynching and denouncing it severely. It is very proable that the lynchers at Morganton hung an innocent man, so thoroughly did the man Stack's neighbors and acquaintances in Union county believe that he was innocent that they held an indignation meeting and branded the lynchers as murderers. An excited mob is unfit to sit in judgment on anything, to say nothing of condemning a man to death. Would be lynchers ought to remember that they are over riding all law, and inculcating a spirit dangerous to liberty.

He Won the Famous Sobriquet While an Editor.

In 1854, Hon. Samuel Sullivan Cox (then plain Mr. Cox) was editing the Columbus Statesman (Ohio). On the 19th of May that year the following article appeared in his paper:—

What a peculiar sunset was that of last night? How glorious the storm, and how splendid the setting of the sun! We do not remember ever to have seen the like on our round globe. The scene opened in the west with a whole horizen full of golden, inter-penetrating luster, which colored the foliage and brightened every object in its rich dyes. The colors grew deeper and richer, until the golden luster was transfused into a storm-cloud, full of fierce lightning, which leaped into dazzling zizzags all around and over the city. The wind arose with fury, the slender shrubs and giant trees made obeisance to its majesty. Some even snapped before its force. The strawberry beds and grass plants "turned up their whites" to see Zephyrus march by. As the rain came and the pools formed and the gutters hurried away, thunder roared grandly, and the fire bells caught the excitement and rang with hearty chorus. The south and east received the copious showers, and the west all at once brightened up in a long, polished belt of azure worthy of a Sicilian sky.

Presently a cloud appeared in the azure belt of the form of a castellated city. It became more vivid, revealing strange forms of peerless fanes and alabaster temples and glories rare and grand in this mundane sphere. It reminded us of Wordsworth's splendid verse in his "Excursion"—

The appearance instantaneously disclosed
Was of a mighty city, boldly say
A wilderness of buildings, sinking far
And self withdrawn into a wondrous depth,
Far sinking into splendor without end.

But the city vanished only to give place to another isle, where the most beautiful forms of foliage appeared, imaging a paradise in the distant and purified air.

The sun, wearied of the elemental commotion, sank behind the green plains of the west. The "great eye in heaven," however, went not down without a dark bow hanging over its departing light. The rich flush of unearthly light had passed and the rain had ceased, when the solemn church bells pealed, the laughter of children loud and joyous after the storm is heard with the carol of the birds, while the forked and purple weapon of the skies still darted illumination around the Starling cottage trying to rival its angels and leap into its dark weapons.

The witty and eloquent States man and friend of the south, who died on the 10th inst, has ever since the above appeared been known as "Sunset" Cox.

SCHOOL ORGANIZATION.

[A paper read by Prof. Isham Royal, County Superintendent of Public Instruction of Sampson County, before the Institute Aug. 12th–16th, 1889.]

In all enterprises, either of a public or a private nature, a well matured plan is necessary to successful management. Without this everything is in confusion, and the manager does double the work necessary, and never knows when work is well done. In schools where the teachers have the children and their parents with all their prejudice to contend with a regular and well developed plan is necessary—such a plan as can be successfully carried into execution, and will show that the teacher is master of the situation.

The French commission to the International Exhibition of 1876 in reporting the condition of the schools in the United States says: "The characteristic trait of the country school is the absence of a regular organization." Referring to the houses, the same commission says: "The stone or brick building constitutes the exception, the frame house, which is so cold in winter and so hot in summer is more frequent and the log school house has not yet disappeared. Even in the most flourishing States many complaints are made in regard to defective accommodations. We are not describing here exceptional cases. We are trying on the contrary to do justice to this great country; but we must not conceal the fact that the schools in the rural districts are poor and badly arranged. In Pennsylvania and New Hampshire reports, the only States that exhibited documents on this subject, we find, in fourteen out of twenty-two reports, complaints of teachers who have absolutely no school apparatus. The salaries of country school teachers are so low that our French teachers have no reason to envy them."

This, if true, is a sad commentary on our country schools. In order to remedy the evils of anarchy, which exist in many of our schools, the superintendents and teachers should get up a system, that is not theatrical but practical.

Some of the essentials for a well organized school are, a harmonized neighborhood, properly constructed school-rooms, a regular system of studies, necessary books and other school-room supplies, a proper classification, and a mild but firm system of government.

The first and most important step, is to secure co-operation of all in the vicinity, for without this little can be done. How shall this be effected?

In many neighborhoods there are petty strifes, prejudices and feuds existing. Find out where these are, by visiting around, talk about them in a general way, without refering to any one in the vicinity; show the disadvatages that accrue from a disturbed state of affairs in a neighborhood, and convince the people of the injury they are doing their children, by strife and confusion, and show the disastrous effects these things exert upon society. This done, there will not be much difficulty in getting the people united, and wherever they are satisfied that there is pay in union, strength, and harmony, they will go to work and establish a school.

Now unless this is done, in part at least, there will not be much school, for with a community divided and full of petty jealousies, no important enterprize can be carried into effect, for Mr. A will not be satisfied unless he can ride his hobby, and that in the lead; Mr. B will not work in any harness except his own; Mr. C will not agree to employ a teacher who does not subscribe to all his whims, even to the studies to be pursued and books to be used, and so on to the end of the alphabet.

Now to the teacher, or superintendent, who attempts to bring order out of confusion, and to reconcile these discordant elements, let me say, don't, pray dont, get into a controversy with these different characters, and try to convince them that they are wrong, but give them your plans and experience, show them what this error has done or will lead to and what effect this prejudice will have on the minds of their children and thus poison them for other errors. By a small amount of tact on the part of the teacher or superintendent, these prejudices and difficulties can be harmonized.

THE SCHOOL HOUSE AND SITE.

The site should be selected with reference to good water, elevation, fuel, accessibility, as near central, as possible, not too public, not too retired.

A LESSON.

BY KATE WHITING.

A dying buttercup cried to the sun
"What am I good for? What have I done
To make life worth the living?
You hang aloft in the great blue sky,
Lighting the world with your one big eye,
And you—you are always giving,
But I bloom here in the meadow grass;
The babies smile on me as they pass,
But my life will soon be done, alas!
And what was the use of living?"

The sun looked down on the little sun
That shown in the grass; it was only one
Among a great many others.
Said he: "It is wrong to thus despair."
The great All-Father placed you there,
You and your little brothers;
He meant you should blossom there in the grass
For the babies to smile on as they pass.
Or to be in the bunches that each small lass
Carries to tired mothers.

"God hung me here in the great blue sky
To light the world with my one big eye,
And show men how they're living,
But he put you down in the meadow lot,
The earth is fairer than if you were not;
Beauty and joy you're giving.
I must see to the work He has given me;
You do what the dear Lord asks of thee;
Then all will be as it ought to be,
And life will be worth the living."

A "Young Reader" writes us:

"Turn about is fair play," and as you are continually asking us questions, I take the liberty of asking you "When was Adam born?

We are glad to have you propound some questions, and will always take pleasure in answering, (when we can.) In answer to above would say that by an Act of the English Parliament, October 24, 4004 B. C. was declared the natal day of the Earth. As Adam was created on the fifth day after, he must have been born October 28th, 4004, B. C.

Some Questions for Our Young Friends to Answer.

1. How many vessels did Columbus have on his first voyage to America and what were their names?
2. When were the present National Colors of the United States adopted?
3. When were postoffices first established?
4. What city is called the "Quaker City?"
5. What is the highest mountain east of the Mississippi river and where is it?

CLINTON, N. C.,—SEPT. 26, 1889.

The fourth week of the Cronin trial closed Monday the 23rd, with only four jurors in the box. Thus far 495 men have been excused.

Forakers chances for the next term of Governorship of Ohio are said to be growing slimmer each day. The great state of Ohio should surely have a greater man for its Governor.

The eloquent Daniel Dougherty is spoken of as a probable successor of the lamented S. S. Cox. The mantle of the late democratic chieftain could probably fall upon no worthier person than Mr. Dougherty.

Hon. Jefferson Davis' paper in the October "Belford's," "does the majority rule?" will be looked for with interest by a large class of readers, also "the coming subjection of man" by Elizabeth Bisland will be read with pleasure by the ladies.

The recent storm along the Atlantic Coast has done a great deal of damage. Besides the property washed away, a number of vessels have been wrecked and in some instances, the crews, have been drowned. It was the worst storm that has occured on the Atlantic in many years.

The recent elections in France have resulted in a great victory for the Republicans. Boulanger has met his Waterloo. It has been for some time feared that the Boulangist party might be successful and endanger the liberty of the Republic, but that fear is now probably forever at rest.

W. M. Bateman, a member of the Farmer's Alliance, will be married at the State Fair in Raleigh on Alliance day. His wedding suit is to be made of cotton bagging, showing his anti Trust sentiments. He was to have been married on Oct. 1st, but at the earnest solicitation of several prominent members of the State Agricultural Society postponed the wedding until the Fair.

Carl Schurtz and Ex-Sec'y of the Navy, Whitney are both spoken of for the successor of Hon. S. S. Cox. Schurtz is a German and a Republican, but the district which Cox represented is largely German and would give Schurtz a stronger support than any other man. Mr. Whitney is a statesman of recognized ability and would fill the position with as much credit to himself and the country as any man.

Col Dodge criticises the last encampment of the Saate Guard and recommends some changes. The Raleigh correspondent of the Messenger says:—

Circular No. 2 has been issued by the Adjutant General. It contains Col. Dodge's report on the late encampment. It is a pretty severe one. Col. Dodge recommends the encampment of the Guard by regiments. He finds fault with the discipline and urges that the men be paid while on duty. His report will no doubt attract much attention. There are some errors in it: one as to the cleanliness of the camp and another as to the firing. All the battalions fired and fired well. The State furnishes to the officers the material for their uniforms, thus saving them from a considerable expense. Col. Dodge does not mention this.

PARKERSBURG.

A Coming Town of Sampson.

We learn that Messrs. W. J. Parker & Sons have built and are still building a considerable town at Parkersburg on the Wilmington extension of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad. This new town is about thirty miles from Fayetteville, fifteen miles from Clinton and seventeen miles from Elizabethtown.—Fayetteville Observer.

IN THE SAME FIX.

Our Pittsboro Record Bro's. hope that we may get some one to "double our joys and divide our sorrows" can not yet be feasibly realized. We are in this matter like Bro. Butler of THE CAUCASIAN. We need a year's rations ahead for such entertainment. —Sanford Express.

Alliance Department.

☞ [THE CAUCASIAN was adopted as the official organ of the County Alliances by the County Alliance, January 19th. ☜

Attention Brethren.

The subscription price of the National Economist is $1.00 per year, but we have a clubbing arrangement by which we can furnish the paper to all subscribers of THE CAUCASIAN at 80 cents per year. Those who are not taking THE CAUCASIAN can get both papers (for the first year only) for $2.00.

The National Economist says that the Farmers' Labor Union of America is now a certainty. The official proclamation will appear in a few days.

The Cotton Exchanges of the country have made a distinction of eight pounds in favor of cotton wrapped in cotton bagging. This prevents any loss by weight to the persons using cot on bagging.

Canning Factory!

Read what our Fayetteville correspondent has to say about the Cumberland canning factory. Sampson must have one before another season passes. We know a dozen men in this county who lost from $10.) to $500 the last season in rotted and wasted fruit. Let us have a factory and every farmer in the county would feel its good effects—every farmer would have some perishable products to sell that would represent so much clear money in his pocket. Our county meeting will soon be here, be sure to discuss the matter and let us take some decided steps.

We hope none of our Sampson farmers will be foolish enough to get into the following predicment which is told by the N. C. Farmer.

As an example of the folly of not raising home supplies, we give the following incident which we are informed recently occurred in this city. A small farmer gave a lien on his cotton and his steer and wagon for supplies. At the end of the season he came with his wife and children and delivered his cotton to his merchant, and asked for a settlement. With hopeful hearts they awaited the making out of the account, expecting some money to buy some needed personal comforts, but instead he was in debt $28.-00. Having nothing wherewith to pay, his steer and wagon were taken and sold and sadly the farmer and his family walked home.

Speculator's Interests vs. The Cotton Growers.

National President Macune says the great object of the cotton speculator is to buy low and sell high, and his only hope of buying low is to induce the farmer to market cotton faster than the mills use it. Whenever that condition prevails he can depress prices and gobble up the surplus. But he is working for his own gain and can be depended upon never to demoralize prices by selling too fast; consequently whenever he gets possession of the crop, prices advance. as shown by the record of past years. Therefore, if the farmers cannot hold back the 500,000 bales per month, there is no risk in holding 100,000, or 40,000, or 10,000 bales. If slow sales have created a short interest that has augmented price, then to recommend sales sufficient to satisfy that short interest means a reduction in price. The sensible and wise policy for the producer is to keep the speculator "short" throughout the season and thereby maintain prices.

The statistician of the Agricultural Department, in his report for the past fiscal year, speaking of the speculators in agricultural products, says:

Men of this class, whose audacity equals their cupidity, write to the Department plainly expressing a desire that there may be no official returns or estimates. They are willing to spend money to get the best idea of future harvests they can by crude individual effort, but deprecate the collection of more accurate information, or any whatever for the farmer.

This class, which thrives upon its robbery of the farmer, is constantly using its ill-gotton wealth to keep the farmers in ignorance, in order that they may be the more easily robbed. They recognize the fact the more intelligent and fully informed the agricultural masses are the less the chance of their being able to fleece them.—National Economist.

A VERY SCANTY DINNER.

[By J. R. Merritt, Trio, S. C.]

The following fact is recorded of a man who was in the habit of too often spending his days and nights lounging about grogshops, gambling, and indulging in the various gross amusements that pertain to such a life.

One day while he and his cronies were employed, as usual, at a game of cards his wife entered the tap room, bearing in her hand a dish. He looked up with surprise; when she said: "I thought, dear husband, that, as you were so busy and had not time to come home to dinner, I would bring your dinner to you"; and setting the dish upon the table, she quietly retired. Calling his associates around him, he invited them to partake of the repast. When he lifted the cover from the dish he found in it simply a piece of paper on which was written:

"Dear Husband:—I hope you will enjoy your dinner. It is of the same kind as your dear wife and children have at home."

The discomfiture of the husband may be imagined. The subject was too grim for mirth. The hungry wife and suffering children stood out in vivid relief before the idle and wretched man.

How many men there are throughout the length and breadth of our land who are daily pursuing the same wretched course. Oh that the voice of God speaking within their souls may awaken them to a sense of their obligations and their sins, and that they may turn their feet into the right way.

How many weary hearts and desolate homes would thus be made happy? How many sad and tearful wives would sing for joy? How many children would rejoice in comfort and plenty who are now oppressed by poverty, want, and woe?—The Lake City Weekly (S. C.)

LOCALS.

Cotton 9 to 10¼.

—You can sell anything from a cradle to a house and lot by advertising in the "Want" column of THE CAUCASIAN.

—Dr. R. H. Holliday received a letter Monday from Gen. Cox saying that he was sick, but would be in Clinton to day if possible.

—We are requested to state that M. Hanstein's store will be closed on Saturday, October 6th, in observance of the Jewish Day of Atonement.

—The revival at the colored Baptist church here closed on last Friday. Fifty converts were baptised in Mr. J. H. Royal's fish pond by Rev. O. Miller, the pastor.

Mr. Julian Lewis has bought an interest in the business of Mrs. M.E. Peterson and the business will be conducted under the firm name of Mary E. Peterson & Co.

—Pres. Crowell of Trinity College will attend the Conference at Keener's Chapel next Saturday and Sunday. A large crowd and interesting services are expected.

—The family of Mr. C. S. Johnson, engineer on the W. W. Road, arrived from Bellevue, Mich. last Friday, and are occupying the S. H. Hobbs house on Elizabeth St.

—The staple of cotton is better this year than usual, middling cotton has been selling for 10¼ cents at this place during the past week, compare this price with the markets of other places.

—Mr. J. H. Royal is moving his business into the large new brick store next to J. E. Royals. The new stock of goods which he bought north last week is begining to arrive.

—Would it not be a good idea for the Sampson Light Infantry to adopt the suggestion of our Fayetteville correspondent and send a detachment to meet Ex-President Davis at Charlotte? We think it would.

—We are indebted to Mr. H. L. Cook, of the Fayetteville bar, for a handsome lithographed invitation to the Hundreth Anniversary of the adoption by North Carolina of the Constitution of the United States, Fayetteville, N. C., November 21st, 1889.

—We are requested by the officers of the colored Baptist Church of Clinton, to state that any of their white friends who desire to attend their camp-meeting, which begins next Tuesday, at any time during the meeting, will be provided with comfortable seats at the place of worship.

—We have received an inquiry from the N. C. Historical Society concerning the life of Wm. J. Rhodes of Sampson County, who was a student of the University in 1860-61. If any one, well acquainted with his history, will write us we will send him the points on which information is desired.

—It is a queer kind of individual who does not take an interest in what his neighbor is doing. Where can you learn what he is doing? In the columns of THE CAUCASIAN. Then every citizen should take it for society and signs of progress in Sampson and adjoining counties are faithfully depicted through its columns each week.

—At the competitive examination for free scholarship to the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, held in the Courthouse in Clinton, September 20th, 1889, the successful applicants were Albert Wesley Colwell, of Franklin township, and Edward Larkin, Parker of Lisbon township.

Ordered by the Board of Education of Sampson County, that the School Committee in each district shall give at least ten days notice of the time of the opening of their respective schools by posting the same in three public places.

Wants!

Have you anything you wish to sell or is there something you wish to purchase? Do you wish to employ a teacher or do you wish a situation as teacher? In short, have you any "WANTS" of any kind? If so let it be known to the 8,000 readers of THE CAUCASIAN. Send 20 cents with your notice if not over ten words. Add one cent for each additional word. Try it; it will pay you.

Sunday-School Conference.

The Sunday-School Conference for the Sampson circuit will be held at Concord Church Friday and Saturday before the 4th Sunday in October instead of Friday and Saturday before the 4th Sunday in September.

NEWTON GROVE.

The next Union Meeting of the South River Association will be held with the church at Canaan, in the northern part of Sampson county, commencing Friday, September 27th, 1889.

TURKEY.

From the quantity of lumber being sawed in this vicinity it seems that our township will soon have fewer bachelors.

Miss Bettie Herring, of Oxford, N. C., is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. E. Daniel. May her stay in Sampson be a most pleasant one.

We are sorry to announce the death of Miss Ann Drew, which occurred at the residence of her brother, in Turkey township, Saturday, the 21st inst. C.

Capt. W. H. Fowler, who has been visiting at Mr. E. L. Faison returned to his home in Lynchburg, Va.

MCDANIELS.

A very interesting meeting closed at Andrew's Chapel on September 20th, conducted by Revs. J. E. Bristowe and L. Culbreth.

MINGO.

On last Monday a little child of Mr. Henry McLamb's found a can of concentrated lye in the yard and drank several swallows of it. After intense suffering the child died from the effects. Nothing that could be done could save it. We are told that a drink of vinegar will give instant relief to a person who has swallowed potash.

Mr. John. N. Jackson died on Monday, the 16th inst He was about fifty years of age and a good citizen.

PINEY GROVE.

Mrs. Martha J. Rackley, wife of Mr. J. F. Rackley, was buried last Sunday evening in the grave-yard at the widow John Boyett's. Mrs. Rackley has been a constant sufferer for a long time.

Mr. J. A. Darden has been in very poor health for a long time. He grew worse last week and is very low now.

Mr. J. S. Aman and wife spent last week in Onslow county with their friends and relatives.

Frost last Sunday morning.

I am glad to see that it has been decided to have a fair in Sampson.

SOUTH CLINTON.

Forty-five inches from tip to tip was the size of a hawk killed by Mr. L. B. Powell, at the distance of 60 yards, on last Saturday. It took many a chicken to bring his hawkship up to this size.

Mrs. Price of Rochester N. Y. is visiting Mrs. G. W. Brinkley.

We note improvements at the Methodist church.

A "Yankee" stepped off the sleeping car here one day last week and falling in love with some of the negro boys could not leave without their pictures, so he gave him 50cts for the privilege to take one which he did with his camera in a few seconds.

Mr. G. S. Hall, representing the "Domestic" sewing machine, is spending a few days in our city. His machine may be found at Scott & Matthis.

Our country folks are making big preparations for the association which comes off soon.

The W. & W. R. R. Co. has seen fit to run the local freight again, which was taken off some time ago. We will now have freight trains going both north and south daily. J.

Clay Fork Items.

MR. EDITOR: Your excellent paper has made its third trip to our shanty, and I must say it is a most welcome visitor.

The main industry of our township (Beaver Dam) is farming, and therefore you would expect a good report from the Alliance but as I am not a member of the Alliance I can only say that they are booming away as best they can.

We have about an average crop. Sweet potatoes are extra. The people are in fine spirits. Turpentine is bringing the farmers a little more money than usual.

The health of the township is good. Not a serious case of sickness reported. One death reported, Mrs. K. S. Carty, died on the 11th. She was a daughter of Mr. Daniel Melvin of Sampson County, and formerly lived near Lisbon.

On the 12th of Sept. Mr. Wellington of Pitt County, and Miss Mary F. Bullard, daughter of Henry Bullard, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Many good wishes to them.

The trustees of Ellisville High School, met this evening and raised a sufficient amount of money to build the house, and purchased the lumber and will proceed to the work soon.

This is an enterprize in the right direction, we determ to have a good school, and no grog-shop.

Protracted meetings is in order. Sharon Baptist Church commences to day, Beaver Dam will commence the 1st Saturday in Oct. Peters Creek Saturday before the fourth Sunday in Sept.

Masonic Lodge at Ammon Bladen County will hold its annual Picnic the 3rd Saturday in November. We hope to see Sampson County well represented, and among the visitors the editor of THE CAUCASIAN, we will write to the boy reaters of THE CAUCASIAN soon. Please give notice and ask fifty to subscribe, and I will give them a bit of the History of the first settlers of Beaver Dam. The fights at Fort Fisher and other scraps that will amuse them.

BRUCE.

Royal's New Mill.

Mr. Editor—I see that you have another addition to Clinton's push-up, in Mr. J. H. Royal's new enterprise. He has done away with his steam grist mill and cotton gin, and has erected one across a spring branch on his plantation. I went out to see it not long since I had thought it a foolish project until I saw it; but not so. It is a success. He has erected a strong dam to hold 13 feet of water, built a commodious house for grist mill and cotton gin. The power is a 16½ overshot water wheel of his own design—the best one I ever saw. I was surprised at the small volume of water required to grind. It will be a great benefit and covenience to Clinton. He ordered a new gin some time ago. It came. When he unboxed it he was surprised and mad to think that they had sent him a piece of fine parlor furniture instead of the gin he had ordered; but looking around it, it looked like a gin. It had wheels, saws, ribs and brushes. He thought he would try it; and sure enough, it turned out to be a veritable gin, and such a gin. Oh, well; go and see it. It keeps Jake with a big grin on all the time while looking at it running. If Clinton had a few more Jakes and A. F. J's it would move on up more rapidly. X.

Resolutions of Respect to the Memory of John B. Stewart.

We always bow in the presence of death, wherever we meet it. The universal brotherhood of man makes us mourn with those bereaved, be they friends or strangers; but when a brother, friend and companion is taken from us, the poor common words of sympathy seem a mockery and we can only bow in silent grief before the mysteries of Gods providence.

And when this friend and companion is a young man just stepping into manhood with the promise of a successful life before him especially does it seem hard that Death so soon should have marked him for the silent tomb.

But bowing to God's decree we gladly hasten to gather up the roses of his life, and weaving them into garlands, lay them at memory's door, that whenever opened our tears may sprinkle them. Our hearts were saddened thus by the announcement of our President that John B. Stewart of Clinton was dead. We pay this tribute to his memory; he was brave, honest, and manly. His College life was short, but he left none but friends behind him.

They, while they mourn his death will keep his memory green.

Thus acknowledging his worth, be it resolved.

1st, That as students we have lost a friend.

2nd, That as Philomathesians we have lost a brother and a valuable member.

3rd, That this society extend its heartfelt sympathies to the family—father, mother, brother, and sisters, of the deceased.

4th, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, to the Clinton CAUCASIAN, to the Wake Forest Student, and a copy be spread upon the records of the society.

When you wish an easy shave,
As good as barber ever gave,
Just call on me at my saloon
At morning, eve or noon;
I cut and dress the hair with grace,
To suit the contour of the face.
My room is neat and towels clean,
Scissors sharp and razors keen,
And everything I think you'll find;
To suit the face and please the mind,
And all my art and skill can do
If you just call, I'll do for you.

SIGNS OF COMING WINSER.

"We are going to have an early fall and a long, cold, hard winter," remarked Samuel Lovelace, an old Jersey farmer, to several friends at the New Washington Market yesterday.

"How do you figure that out?" asked one of the marketmen.

"In the first place," the Jerseyman replied, "just try the skin of any of your fruit. You will find your apples and peaches and grapes, and all your fruit, for that matter, which is home-grown, with a thicker and tougher skin than you have seen for several years. That is one of the indications. That is the way Nature takes care of her products. Last winter apples and other fruits were so thin-skinned and tender that it was hard to gather them without bruising them, if you will remember, and we had an extraordinarily mild winter. Corn is another one of Nature's signboards. The ears this year are protected by thicker and stronger husks than I have seen before for years, and talking with farmers up in Pennsylvania I find it is the same way. Wheat and rye straw are tougher, hay is wirier and the seed pods are better protected than usual. These are old farmer's signs, and they are good ones, because they don't come from any moon-planting superstition, but from actual observation year after year by a class of men whose interests lie in keeping close watch of all of nature's moods."—N. Y. Star.

Rheumatism and Catarrh.

Rheumatism and catarrh are both blood diseases. In many severe cases they have yielded to treatment with B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm), made by Blood Balm Co., Ga. Write for book of convincing proofs. Sent free.

R. P. Dodge, Atlanta, Ga, says: "My wife had catarrh and nothing did her any good. Her constitution finally failed and poison got into her blood. I placed her on a use of B. B. B., and to my surprise her recovery was rapid and complete."

W. P. McDaniel, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I was much emaciated and had rheumatism so bad I could not get along with crutches. I also had neuralgia in the head. First-class physicians did me no good. Then I tried B. B. B., and its effects were magical. I cheerfully recommend it as a good tonic and quick cure."

Mrs. Matilda Nichols, Knoxville, Tenn., writes: I had catarrh six years and a most distressing cough, and my eyes were much swollen. Five bottles of B. B. B., thank God! cured me."

J. M. Davis, Tyler, Texas, writes: "I was subjec' a number of years to spells of inflammatory rheumatism, which six bottles of B. B. B., thank heaven, has entirely cured. I have not felt the slightest pain since."

In his discourse on evolution Darwin never described the transition of the worm of the still to the seven-headed boa-constrictor.—Washington Capital.

Catarrh Can't Be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATION, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you have to take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucus surface. Hall's Catarrh Cure is no quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucus surface. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials free.
